REPORT OF CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

February 17, 1933 to February 17, 1934

To the Selectmen and Citizens of Freeport:

I hereby submit my annual report as chief of the Freeport Fire Department for a period beginning February 17, 1933, and ending February 17, 1934.

The department has responded to 25 alarms; 9 bell, and 16 still alarms.

We had one outside call this year for the Auburn fire, our men gladly giving their service.

We have been fortunate in not having any bad fires this past year. The only building destroyed, a cabin at Maine Idyll covered by insurance and rebuilt. Two arson fires, damage not exceeding $50.00. All other fires caused by overheated chimneys.

I recommend that property owners insist that oil drums be placed in basements or outbuildings.

The engineers of Freeport Fire Department recommend that $1,174.00 be appropriated for maintenance and $1,000.00 for equipment; note $150.00, 500 feet hose $500.00, new heating plant $250.00, and $100.00 miscellaneous.

We were fortunate to get $700.00 C. W. A. money to lay a cement floor in the hose house and build seven fire dams.

Respectfully submitted,

STANLEY E. JOHNSON,

Chief of Freeport Fire Department.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Citizens of the Town of Freeport:

I have examined the account of your Board of Selectmen, Treasurer and Tax Collector and found the same to be correct. The following are a few financial statements which you will find listed under their proper accounts. The town notes due the Lewiston Trust Co. have been reduced $7,000 during the past year, leaving a balance due them of 9,100 dollars.

There are notes due Mrs. G. L. Stanwood's Estate totaling 2,500 dollars. The town's Bonded Debt of 30,000 dollars is the same as it was a year ago. Your Tax Collector has collected 63,305 dollars and 97 cents, which is 88 per cent of the total tax due for the past year. In addition to this sum he has collected in back taxes, 4,092 dollars and 46 cents. These taxes extend back over a period of about nine years. There is still due the town in back taxes and tax deeds, the sum of 21,932 dollars and 3 cents. Your state and county taxes have been paid in full. There is at present cash on hand to the amount of 97 dollars and 52 cents. You will notice that this is a much smaller sum than a year ago, due to the fact that one of the payments made on the notes due the Lewiston Trust Co. has just recently been made. I truly think that your town officers who have looked after your financial affairs have taken a lot of interest and worked hard for your benefit and that they will have your hearty appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE A. WILBUR,

Auditor.

SCHOOL REPORT

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee and Citizens of Freeport:

In accordance with the school laws of Maine, I hereby submit my ninth annual report as Superintendent of Schools of Freeport. The data sheets and the reports from the different teachers will give information concerning the different departments in more detail than could be presented in this general report.

INSTRUCTION AND ENROLLMENT

This has been a year when no expansion whatever has been attempted but efforts have been centered on using what facilities were available to the best possible advantage of the children enrolled in our schools.

All the schools finished the spring term in charge of the same teachers as reported last year with the exception of the High School Principal, Mr. Leonard, who resigned the first of April to accept the principalship of Aroostook Central Institute at Mars Hill. Mr. L. F. Longfellow was elected to fill the vacancy and is continuing the work in the high school in a very satisfactory manner.

The school census of April 1st recorded 652 persons living in town between the ages of five and twenty-one years. This is the largest number that has been enrolled for several years and indicates a probable continued increase in the future enrollment of the different schools.

As a measure of economy and in order to distribute the teaching load more evenly, the following plans were made for the opening of schools in the fall:

1. To remove the entering fifth grade from the High-Grammar building where 70 pupils in the fifth and sixth grades were expected to enroll in one room and to place this grade in the spare room of the Grove Street building.

2. To transfer the teacher of the Bailey School to take charge of this grade.

3. To close "Beech Hill," "Bailey," "Pleasant Hill," and "Porter's Landing," schools for the year and convey the children to the graded schools where the seven different rooms would provide ample accommodations.

4. To shorten the school year to 36 weeks for the high school and 32 weeks for the grades, the minimum allowed under the law.

These arrangements would have reduced operating expenses by about $800 and would have distributed the teaching load throughout the school system. At a special town meeting held the Saturday before the week schools were to re-open this fall, the school committee was authorized to continue the above mentioned four rural schools and $800 was voted for that purpose. Teachers were hired and three of these schools have been continued. As a large majority of the parents in the Bailey School neighborhood preferred to have their children conveyed to the advantages offered in the village grades, that part of the previous arrangement has been carried out. As a result the teaching load in the grades has been so evenly distributed that teaching conditions have been greatly improved and an increased enrollment of from five to ten per cent could be accommodated very nicely without increasing the number of teachers.

It is recommended that the same arrangement be continued for another year. Under this arrangement and with the present corps of teachers, we are probably accomplishing as much or more for the time that school is actually in session than we have during any other similar period.

In connection with our Common Schools, however, the facts that we must keep constantly in mind are that during the past two years we have diminished the length of our school year by four weeks or one ninth of the total. With the time that is lost due to inclement weather and the time that any child may lose due to sickness, the average number of days that each child is actually in school is less than is necessary for the maintenance of a first class school system. For the welfare of the children this lost time should be regained just as soon as the necessary funds can be provided. Considering that Freeport has a new factory with a steadily increasing payroll and that business in general is improving it would seem that some of this lost time should be regained this coming year.

NO SCHOOL SIGNAL AND SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

It might be well at this time to state the school policy in regard to the items mentioned above. The "No School Signal" sounding at 7:30 A.M. indicates that there is to be no school in town for the day and as a result the day is lost as far as school work is concerned. With the length of your school year cut to the minimum allowed by State law it behooves your school officials to allow just as few interruptions as possible. They will not assume the responsibility of deciding when weather conditions are suitable for all children to attend school. That responsibility rests with each individual parent as it affects the health of his own children. The schools are maintained, however, for the benefit of all the children in every section of the town, hence, traveling conditions throughout the town as a whole is the first thing that is taken into consideration. Changes occur so quickly that it is often very hard to tell at 7:30 A. M. what the weather for the day is to be and as a result unwise decisions are liable to be made in regard to the use of the signal.

Columbus Day and Washington's Birthday are two optional school holidays which according to law must be observed by proper exercises in the schools the same as Lincoln's Day when a school committee so votes. Your committee has so voted in regard to this matter, believing that it was wiser for schools to be in session and proper observance of these days to be accorded than for these days to be lost through merely closing the schools and interrupting the work thereby losing sight of the lessons these days are supposed to inculcate.

THE SOLOMON H. PLUMMER SCHOOL FUND

During the summer your town officers received notice of the provisions which govern the administration of the fund left by Edward C. Plummer of Bath, Maine, to the town of Freeport as follows:

"To the town of Freeport, County of Cumberland, State of Maine, there shall be paid the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars, the same to be kept safely invested and carried in the town's annual report as 'The Solomon H. Plummer School Fund'. The income from this fund shall be expended annually in whatever manner the school authorities of said town may from time to time deem best calculated to encourage scholarship in the public schools of said town, either by furnishing prizes for excellence in scholarship, regular attendance at school, procuring special educational books, or in any other appropriate manner; and of what is appropriate under this paragraph the said school authorities shall be the sole judges."

Due to depreciation of stocks and investments the amount of money that came to the town of Freeport is about $4,700 with the possibility that this may be increased later.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

During the summer months nothing except the minor repairing at the different school buildings was attempted. With the opening of the fall term an overcrowded condition developed at the Collins School Building which was so pronounced that it demanded immediate attention. After a careful investigation, it was decided to remove the partition in the front of the room in order to make one small cloak room and a small wood shed a part of the main class room. This was done and although the room is still crowded there is nevertheless room for sufficient seats to accommodate the children enrolled therein.

Your school officials have organized and carried out one C. W. A. School Project under which during the last three months 14 class rooms in the different schools have been thoroughly renovated on the inside. Another project has placed several inches of gravel over the greater part of the Grove Street school yard whereby a little smoothing and grading in the spring will make an ideal playground. Under these projects the expense of all labor has been met with federal relief funds and an additional 22 per cent has been allowed for material so that the expense to the town has been very little.

The shingles on the east roof of the Grove Street school building are in very bad shape. In dry weather they are a constant fire menace having already caught fire on several occasions from sparks from the chimney. This roof should be covered with fire-proof shingles just as soon as weather conditions will permit. The outside of the school building at South Freeport has been sadly in need of paint for two or three years and the time has come when it is not economical to neglect it another year.

ACCOUNTS AND APPROPRIATIONS

We are closing the municipal year with a small balance in every school account which I believe proves that your school officers are determined to keep the school expenses within the amounts appropriated by the town unless some unforeseen emergency should make this impossible. May I state at this time that after studying the situation carefully your school committee is making the following recommendations for the coming year:

Common schools (sufficient for 32 weeks),	$11,300
High school,	5,500
Textbooks and supplies,	1,400
Repairs, insurance and material,	1,000
Manual training,	400
Home economics,	300
School committee,	125

Superintendence,	525
Gymnasium rental,	100
Co-operative library,	sufficient bal.

The amount stated for a 32 week year is the same as has been provided by the town during the past year. No allowance is being made for any increased expenses even though the dollar has been devalued and we are told to expect an increase in living costs. We cannot discover any items that should be expected to cost less than they have during the past year. Our present weekly expense in this account is approximately $350. If we desire 34 weeks of school for the coming year an additional $700 will be required. Under the High School account the $5,500 recommended will provide a slightly smaller total available unless more tuition students enter next fall. This is not expected. When Brunswick erects a new High School building, we shall lose the Durham students now attending our high school. Two hundred dollars more is recommended for Textbooks and Supplies than was appropriated last year due to the fact that we had a $200 larger balance last year than this year. This amount will not replace all of the books needed nor furnish all of the supplies that we could use to advantage but by having old books cleaned and rebound and by transferring books from one school to another we can manage. The amount for supervision has been reduced $75.00. No recommendation has been made for Co-operative Library it being planned to use some of the amount expected from the Solomon H. Plummer School Fund for this fund. All the other recommendations are for the same amounts as were raised last year based on present current expense.

In conclusion it gives me great pleasure to thank publicly the school officials, the teachers, the parents and all citizens who have in any way aided in advancing the welfare of the boys and girls in the Freeport Schools.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH G. OAKES,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

To the Superintendent and Members of the School Committee of Freeport:

The total enrollment of the school this year was 106; divisions as follows: Seniors, 17; Juniors, 19; Sophomores, 30; Freshmen, 40.

The policy of the school is not radically different from that of former years. The school days of eight forty-minute periods; five in the morning and three in the afternoon. The system of detention and black marks is still in force. Excuses are required for every absence for any reason whatsoever and for the entire period of absence. For every tardiness for which pupil is responsible (home room teacher to decide whether or no pupil is responsible) pupil must remain one-half hour after the close of school; in addition pupil also forfeits $\frac{1}{8}$ unit towards graduation credits for each tardiness in excess of an aggregate of five per year. Five is deemed sufficient for all emergencies. For unexcused absence forfeit is double that of unexcused tardiness; that is, one-fourth unit for each half days unexcused absence.

At the beginning of the school year the actual regular class recitations were assigned to the first seven periods. This allows music to be given every Monday P. M. from 2:30 to 3:15 without forcing out any regular period of any other class at all as had hitherto always been necessary. On the other four nights per week detention lasts until 3:30. The period from 2:30 to 3:00 is reserved for the make-up work of recent absentees or for pupils to prepare lessons for the day if they were unprepared at class time. This half-hour also allows individual help for anyone who wants or needs it. Some teacher is always in the building until after 3:30 and two or three of the six are usually there until 4:00 or later every night.

The ranks of the pupils are recorded every six weeks. Anyone who fails in any subject for any one ranking period is required to stay one hour per night after school hours for the next six weeks, or until such deficiency is made up. The teacher having charge of detention on any particular night sees to it that the pupils detained study the subjects that they are failing to pass, unless special permission has been given to the contrary. The efficiency of the plan may be judged by the fact that at the first rank period there were about 100 failures in school, whereas, at the mid-year reviews the number of failures had been reduced to about 30.

May I at this point call the attention of the parents to the fact that school does not close until 3:30 P. M. Only those pupils who are passing all subjects and whose accomplishments satisfy the teachers in their particular courses are dismissed before this time. All others are subject to the requirement stated in the paragraph above.

I wish also, to recommend that a change in the system of ranking be adopted. At present we use a combination of the percentage and the letter systems. Some of the fairly recent investigations at the School of Education in Columbia University and elsewhere have proved conclusively that ranking can at best be only approximately correct, that is the nearest approach to accuracy is seven percent. That means that a pupil may obtain a rank of 63-77 per cent and still 70 per cent may be the accurate mark, for either case. I therefor suggest that we accept these facts at their face value, and adopt a letter system completely, using A for a percentage rank of 93-100 per cent, B for a rank of 85-92 per cent, C for a rank of 78-84 per cent, D for a rank of 70-77 per cent, and E for a rank below 70 per cent indicating a very inferior grade of work. Under our present system when the grades are averaged we may get such a statement as this:

Tom Jones' average—78-15.

Frank Brown's average—78-16.

That this basis is unreliable has already been proved. It must be furthermore admitted that no teacher would maintain that such a condition is reliable or that his ranking on a percentage basis is or could be accurate, to such a degree. For these reasons I recommend that the letter system of marking be used entirely.

In spite of extreme care in the handling of the school finances the school is in debt about $100; about $60 of this debt is inherited from former years. We hope to get all squared up before the end of the school year but to do so we shall very likely be compelled to eliminate baseball this spring. The reason for our debt is that we are compelled to furnish many things for ourselves, wholly or in part, that most schools of our size and with whom we compete in various extra-curricular activities usually have furnished them free of charge. For this reason it has been necessary to omit from our rostra debating and the one-act play contest, in both of which we participated last year, and in both of which we are again going to compete as soon as circumstances allow us to do so.

The Clarion is going to press a bit earlier this year than it did last. We hope to have it ready for distribution by May 1.

In extra-curricular activities the high light of the year for us was the winning of the C. C. C. Swimming Shield for the third consecutive year. In basketball our rating was at the other end of the scale, however. It was also our financial loss.

May I now call your attention to some of the physical needs of our school.

The equipment in the chemistry laboratory has been gradually built up for several years so that individual experiments can be done as required by the state. If we are to remain on the approved list of class A High Schools, tank fuel gas should be installed as soon as possible to replace the alcohol burners which under the best of conditions are dangerous.

The fact that every teacher teaches every or nearly every period in the day renders it almost impossible to get any mimeographing or typewriting done for quizzes, examinations, etc. The mimeographing done by the present machine is very poor in quality and unsatisfactory in many other respects. For this reason it is suggested that it be disposed of at its nominal trade-in allowance and a ditto machine acquired in its stead.

The biggest gap for instructional purposes on the whole is the absence of any adequate encyclopedia reference book which is at all up-to-date. The only thing that we have is a set of antiquated ones published by the World Book Company. I should not advise buying new ones of the same type now for they are too bulky to be very serviceable but a cheaper and more recent encyclopedia which would serve our purposes well is that just published by Comptons. The entire set complete, thoroughly up-to-date costs less than $70. I urgently recommend that this sum be added to the school budget for its purchase.

Another thing which is very necessary and lacking for the most part is a slate blackboard of good quality. We have only two or three sections in the main room which can be used. Most of the rest of the blackboards are of slate substitute and on this substitute it is almost impossible to write. Much the same is true of many sections of those in Mrs. Chamberlain's and Miss Williams' room. Since nearly every room has a class in it every period it is evident that the need for blackboard space is great, particularly in classes in mathematics, languages, and history.

For a period of some years there has been and still continues to be an increasing number of high school pupils who elect the arts courses instead of the regular academic courses. We at Freeport are well aware of this tendency. As proof I submit this evidence: The present Freshman class in Manual Training occupies every bench in the Manual Training room but one and the prospects are for an increasing enrollment in the immediate future; the same situation prevails in the Domestic Science Department. For this reason we must infer that the present size of the Manual Training and Domestic Science Rooms will have to be enlarged very soon to accommodate their increasing enrollments.

Since the introduction of public education in a system of public schools the school has been, and still is, taking over an increasing number of duties which were originally under the supervision of the home, the church and other institutions. In keeping with this policy the school has felt itself responsible for the moral and physical development of its students no less than their mental welfare. Hence have sprung up the so-called extra-curricular activities which are just as essentially part and parcel of our school program as a course in geometry or history, for example. For this reason is it not essential that, if they are worth having in our school system (which is admitted by their conclusion in nearly every high school in the United States, by the general tendency to hire teachers who can not only teach their subject matter but can in addition handle one or more of these activities in addition to their academic work, that they are expected as an essential part of the school program by the community) that they be as legitimately entitled to their places in the school budget at public expense as any other article, for example: Textbooks, salaries, office supplies, etc.

I give below my recommendation for a program of extra-curricular activities for the high school for the coming year:

Gymnasium rent,	$150
For Library Fund,	100
For general extra-curricular activities fund, including baseball, swimming, dramatics, winter sports, etc.,	150

After all education is not an acquisition of certain facts together with participation in certain forms of athletics but rather the attaining certain attitudes and a certain outlook on life. Any education therefore must try to inculcate ideals and aspirations. Few of the leading teachers of mankind are ever personally available for most of us; in fact it is only in retrospect that their greatness is often realized. Their treasured thoughts and aspirations are still available to us however, in books—the nearest substitute for the men themselves. It is therefore essential that the library be the heart of any school system. Freeport in this respect compares favorably with most schools of its size. Notwithstanding it is still below the minimum recommendations for a school of its size by about 150 to 200 volumes, and although strong in some fields it is pitifully lacking in others. It has, for example, Ferrero's History of Rome, but nothing in the recent developments in the history, geography, economics, and government of our own country; it has the collective works of Tennyson, Bryant, Holmes, and Whittier, but nothing by Galsworthy, Masefield, Shaw, Tolstoi, Lewis, Conrad Cather, or Canfield; it has Pearsons Elements of Science but no work by Fuller, Brownlee, Ford, Edison, Einstein, or any other modern man of science.

As far as periodicals are concerned we have none or practically none, whereas every school library should be provided with at least five or six of the better magazines and some of the others such as: Harper's Atlantic Monthly, Scribners, Review of Reviews, Literary Digest, World's Work, National Geographic, Time, and Reader's Digest, to which might well be added Current Events, Popular Mechanics, Etude, and Scwance Review. At present our receipts of magazines and periodicals are limited to National Geographic, Congressional Record and U. S. Daily (just stopped as subscription has just expired) all sent us by friends of the school. We wish here to thank those of you who patronize us in this respect and may we solicit the patronage of some more of our friends along this same line.

In keeping with more progressive trends in education we decided to introduce a course in Junior Business Training. For the present school year Commercial Arithmetic was offered to both Sophomores and Juniors the first semester. Junior Business Training is being given this semester to the same group. After this year Junior Business Training only will be offered as it covers the essentials of Commercial Arithmetic and many other things besides. It will only be open to Sophomores and required of those taking the Commercial course.

At present most of our textbooks are in good condition and most courses well taken care of. Had it not been for the judicious rebinding of several textbooks during the summer vacation at an almost incredibly small charge per volume our textbook expenditures would necessarily have been very much increased. I wish here to express my thanks to the Superintendent and School Committee for attending to this matter as well as for the purchase of new texts where necessary.

In the matter of educational standards we insist both on quantity and quality of achievement as the small number of students attaining an average rank of 85 or better bears witness to. In the Junior Latin class, for example, a year's work (6 orations of Cicero) was completed in about half the time and every student in the class felt that more had been accomplished and learned than if a corresponding slower pace had been set and maintained for the year. For that reason I felt it incumbent upon me to offer another course for them for the remainder of the year. Therefore, after consulting the Superintendent I decided to offer an elementary course in German. The class is now well under way, progressing at a very satisfactory rate and seems thoroughly interested in its work, which is really inspiring for any teacher.

In closing let me express my appreciation and sincere thanks for all the fine co-operation with the school on the part of so many parents and friends of the school. This we consider a fine tribute to our common interests and labors—the better rearing, training, and equipping of the youth of our community to go out into the world and play its part better than we could. Let us keep before us a constant vision not of what we are but of what we are striving to become and let us not jeopardize our proportionate share of the twenty million young Americans of today because of temporary financial inequilibrium. Only by making temporary sacrifices can great catastrophies be avoided. That has been brought to our mind more and more vividly as we look back over the years to 1918.

Respectfully submitted,

L. FREDERICK LONGFELLOW,

Principal.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

In making out my report this year there is very little that I can add to reports of preceding years without seemingly useless repetition.

The total enrollment is the same as last year although the rural class is larger than ever before. The regular course of study and work has been carried on. One important change in the organization of high school courses was instituted by the principal. Manual Training for sophomores was abandoned and in its place sophomores were given an opportunity to take drafting. Doing this enables us to give each of the remaining classes ten periods each week. This complies with the state requirements and seems to be better from the standpoint of the students. I recommend that this be continued.

In conclusion I would again recommend that facilities for storing students work in the process of construction be provided during the next year. At the present time each class keeps its work in one pile. This necessarily means some damage and some losses which are very grievous to the student.

Respectfully submitted,

CARL B. JENSEN.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The home economics classes have followed practically the same plans in the course of study as in previous years—that of teaching the girls to buy foods and prepare wholesome and attractive meals; to select, care for and make over clothing and make new garments that will wear and give satisfaction; to keep the home clean; and to become “worthy home and community members” by applying the principles which govern her social acceptability.

The enrollment in the freshman and sophomore classes this year is twenty eight. There are forty in the grammar school classes. The rural classes have been much larger than of previous years.

The high school classes have had the preparation of the noon lunch in connection with their foods work. We have served cocoa with some other simple hot dish each day, for the benefit of those who bring their lunches. The girls have enjoyed this project.

A new text book “The Girl of Today the Woman of Tomorrow” has been much enjoyed by the high school girls. This book aims to teach the girls in an interesting and elementary way the conventions of society in her home, her school, college, business and social life.

The thing that seems to be most needed at the present is more heating units to take care of our foods preparation classes. With the increase in classes we need more individual equipment.

There will be an opportunity this year, as last year, for girls to earn extra credits for homework. This gives the girl a real object for doing home work which they might not do under ordinary circumstances.

We have practiced economy as much as possible by stressing—economy in keeping old garments in good repair, caring for clothes to make them last longer, and making over old garments instead of using new materials.

We appreciate having a committee who can see that it is important to have a subject that deals with real needs and real situations and teaches the fourth R in education which is right living.

Respectfully submitted,

HOME ECONOMICS TEACHER.
